RE: Weather-Related Information

The purpose of this communication is to remind our university community about policies and procedures regarding inclement weather.

As a matter of policy, the University of Illinois does not fully close. The residential and research aspects of operations make it impossible to close the entire university. However, periods of inclement weather often result in conditions that make travel difficult and at times hazardous, especially for those employees who live outside the local community. In addition, inclement weather can create other conditions that affect an employee’s ability to report to work (e.g., childcare issues associated with school closings).

In general, the university encourages employees to carefully consider their personal safety and local conditions in determining their ability to commute to work in extreme weather. Members of the university community are encouraged to utilize the Illinois Department of Transportation's "getting around Illinois" Website to access Winter Road Conditions at: http://www.gettingaroundillinois.com/. Please remember to drive slowly and cautiously in winter weather conditions.

Employees whose work can be completed remotely may work remotely with departmental approval. If an essential employee is unable to report to work due to weather conditions or other related factors and cannot work remotely, the employee is expected to use the appropriate leave benefit based on his/her employment group as noted in the table below. Extreme weather does not change the need for an individual employee to notify his/her supervisor of the absence. Normal leave reporting processes and requirements apply to leave used to cover weather-related absences.

However, as noted above, there are some operations at the university that must continue regardless of weather conditions. Those essential units will have needs and policies for coverage that will supersede the general provisions of this communication.

Information about the status of classes and other university events will be shared with local news media by the chancellor or his representative. Unfortunately, we cannot control the local news media's wording of such announcements. If you hear that the university is "closed," you should know that, while classes may have been cancelled, generally, office operations continue and other events may still occur as scheduled.

This communication is posted here and a set of frequently asked questions (FAQs) is now posted at Inclement Weather FAQs.
